

Unit
5

Notes download from Telegram channel - Content for BA BHU

Introduction of Bhaishjya Kalpana Date _____ Page _____

- In Ayurvedic therapeutics, drug therapy is given prime importance. Preparation
- Bhaishjya & Rasashastra is branch of Ayurveda - deal with medicine
- Bhaishjya Kalpana - There is a very well-developed sub-discipline entirely devoted to drug formulations known as "Bhaishjya Kalpana"

➤ Bhaishjya-Kalpana - The Ayurvedic Pharmaceutics.

- The Ayurvedic drug formulations is based on "Pancaviधा Kashaaya" Concept.
- There are five basic forms of formulation known -
 - (i) Swarasa - the expressed juice
 - (ii) Kalka - grinding dried plant material
 - (iii) Kwatha - The decoction.
 - (iv) Sheeta - the cold water diffusion
 - (v) Faanta - The hot water Infusion
- Bhaishjya Kalpana comprise two words - Bhesja and Kalpana.
 - (i) Bhesja - mean drug. (ii) Kalpana - formulations
- Bhaishjya Kalpana mainly cover the entire field of Herbal and Organic pharmaceutical preparation like Swarasa, Kashaya, Churna, Guli-Vati, Asava-Aristha, Avaleha, Ghritam - Tailam etc.
- Rasa Shashtra Kalpana - branch of ayurveda
- It covers the entire field of Inorganic pharmaceutical preparation like metallics, non-metallics compound of ayurvedic materia medica.
- these Rasasadhya are appreciated for their smaller dosage, quicker effectiveness long durability.
- So Rasasadhya plays an Important Role in curing the ailment

• Utility of Plants in Ayurveda.

Date _____ Page _____

- Plants are central to Ayurvedic medicine, an ancient Indian medical system that uses a holistic approach to health.
- (*) Plant-based preparation - around 90% of ayurvedic preparation are plant-based.
- (*) Polyherbal combinations - means they combine multiple plants to achieve the best effect.
- (*) Polyherbal combinations - Specific Qualities - Each plant or herb has a specific quality and can be used to treat a variety of ailments.
for example aloe, turmeric, tulsi, pepper, elachi and ginger are commonly used to treat skin and throat issue.
- (*) Bioactive molecules - Plants contain bioactive molecules with pharmaceutical properties such as anti-viral, anti-bacterial, and anti-fungal properties.
- (*) Some example of plants used in ayurveda medicine - Ashwagandha, Boswellia, Triphala, Brahmi, Cumin, Turmeric etc.

• Utility of Animal in Ayurveda Medicine.

- Animals and animal products play a significant role in Ayurveda medicine, with nearly 15-20% of Ayurvedic medicine based on animal-derived substance.

⊛ Animal Products - Many animal products such as - milk, honeybee, fat, bone marrow, blood, flesh, Urine, Skin, Semen, Shell etc can be used in Ayurvedic medicine.

⊛ Animal Observation - The effects of medicinal substances were observed on animals like boars, mongoose, tortoise, snakes and cows.

⊛ Animal Comparison - Human body parts were compared to those of animals. for example goat's flesh was used for emasculation, rabbit's blood for blood depletion, goat's brain for brain degeneration etc.

• Utility of Minerals in Ayurveda Medicine

➤ Minerals play a central role in Ayurveda medicine and are used in a variety of ways -

(i) Digestion, assimilation, and hormone production - Minerals are involved in many bodily functions including digestion, assimilation and hormone production.

⊛ → Minerals are very potent in eliminating disease and also for Rejuvenation purposes in ayurveda.

→ Minerals based products are known as Rasushadhis.

• Rasushadhis are explained for many diseases mainly contain elements like Mercury, copper, Calcium, Iron, Zinc, etc.

↳ these elements play vital role in normalizing many metabolic ~~effects~~ activities.

• Inorganic element minerals have main role in Rasashastra Kल्पana.

Rasa Chikitsa

Date _____ Page _____

- Rasa Chikitsa is the therapeutic application of drugs from metal and mineral origin, animal products and poisonous plant drugs in Ayurveda.
- The word Chikitsa Rasa denotes the medicines used in the therapeutic application of Rasa Shastra.
- The raw material is processed through various pharmaceutical processing such as
 - (i) Shodhana - (Primary Treatment)
 - (ii) Bhavana - levigation
 - (iii) Marana - (incineration and others).

* Ten Common Ayurveda formulations with the Date _____

Page _____

- Ayurvedic compound formulations are mainly divided into two groups.

(i) Kashausadhi - Predominantly Plant drug

(ii) Rasausadhi - Predominantly metals and minerals.

- Kashausadhi formulations such as Asavarishta, Arleha, Grafa Chusena, Taila etc.

- Rasausadhis such as Bhasma, Pisti, Lauha, Kapibadhva, Rasayan etc.

➤ The Ayurvedic drugs are derived from Vegetable Sources from the Various parts of the plant like root, leaf, flower, fruit extract or plant as a whole.

→ Ayurvedic medicines are available in the form of powder, tablets, pills, liquid and semi-solid.

→ Which are classified into following categories.

① Aristha - and Asava

→ made in powder form or in the form of decoction. decoction (Kasaya) in a Solution of Sugar.

→ a traditional Ayurvedic medicine that is prepared by fermenting fresh Herbal juices added Sugar.

- Uses - Improving complexion and Stimulant.

② AValeha - Semisolid preparation of herbal drugs.

→ prepared in decoction or extracts of different Herbs by adding Sweetening agent like Sugar, Jaggery.

Uses - Respiratory and Skin disease.

(iii) Trikatu Churna - powder form medicine treating cough, asthma, Respiratory problems etc.

(iv) Taila - liquid or viscous fluid medicine made by seeds, fruits etc. such as Badam taila.

Uses - prevent free radical damage, maintain healthy weight.

(v) Bhasma - a metallic or mineral preparation that is made by heating and purifying the material and then mixing it with herbs or other minerals.

Uses - maintaining optimum alkalinity for optimum health, neutralizing harmful acids that lead to illness.

(vi) Pisth - ayurvedic mineral formulation that is made from rare.

Uses - balance excess acid in body.

(vii) Rasayan -